To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is my recommendation for Paula Harder Kenemore. Paula presented a workshop titled, Their Life, Their Care, Their Way at Elderberry Institute's Rural Site Conference on September 18th, 2008 at the Kelly Inn-St. Cloud Hotel in St. Cloud, MN.

As coordinator of the conference, I have received extremely positive feedback from attendees regarding Paula's workshop. She made quite an impression on them. Attendees appreciated the way Paula was able to present with sincerity and humor, her astute insights and lessons about communicating and interacting with elders. Paula's workshop is an experience that remains with you. She gently gets you to realize your long held assumptions and pretensions about the ways we communicate with seniors. You really start to "get it." Our attendees left Paula's presentation energized, and more importantly eager, to apply the information to their work.

I highly recommend Paula Harder Kenemore for workshops, speaking engagements, and any other education and training venue. She is a gracious and dedicated instructor and advocate for elders.

Sincerely,

Chris Chryssovergis
